

Dr. Johannes Van De Kreeke

Bundesanstalt für Materialforschung und -prüfung (BAM), Germany

Dr. Johannes VAN DE KREEKE is a chemist by education. He has been working at BAM, Germany, running the EPTIS PT scheme database and providing chemical analytical community with necessary information in this field. Previously he worked at the European Joint Research Centre (JRC), where organized interlaboratory comparisons in the frame of the IMEP program. Currently he is working on rebuilding the COMAR CRM database and getting increasingly interested in the integration of the things he is working on. Johannes is dutch and lives in Berlin.
