

Prof. Ricardo J.N.B. da Silva

Faculdade de Ciências da Universidade de Lisboa, Portugal

Prof. Ricardo J.N. Bettencourt da Silva after working in public and private laboratories as analyst and consultant for 15 years, started a research and teaching career at the Faculty of Sciences of the University of Lisbon. His research interests are Metrology and Examinology in chemistry, the sciences of measurements and qualitative analysis in chemistry, respectively. He collaborates in teaching at Master Courses of consortiums of various Universities. Since 2002, collaborates regularly with the Portuguese Accreditation Body, as technical assessor. Ricardo is currently Secretary of CITAC (www.citac.cc), member of the executive committee of Eurachem and chair of the Eurachem working group on Qualitative Analysis (www.eurachem.org). (website: <http://webpages.fc.ul.pt/~rjsilva/>)